

Recording Additional Slides

You can record additional content at any time.

Simply click the 'Record' button in the standard toolbar and the 'Record additional slides' dialog box will open.

You can choose to record the slides at the end of the project, or after the slide you have currently selected. Click the radio button next to the option you wish and click 'OK'.

Adobe and Captivate are either registered trademarks or trademarks of Adobe Systems Incorporated in the United States and/or other countries.

An Introduction to Captivate 2 – PC (Vista)

You will be taken to the recording dialog box where you can choose what type of recording you are making (see lesson 03)

Once you have finished recording, your new content will be added to your project.

TIP – the best advice you can get is think through your project in advance. If you have resized your project (see lesson 37), then recording additional slides will be problematic. You are best to record the new content in another project and import it into the one you wish to expand.

